JCTR 2024 - 2027 STRATEGIC PLAN SUMMARY

Jesuit Centre for Theological Reflection

Strategic Plan: 2024 to 2027

SUMMARY

Background:	Who are we? Where do we operate? What is our target group?
Who we are: Jesuit Centre for Theological Reflection is a faith based organisation and a Ministry of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) operating in Zambia since 1988 to promote social justice. Our work is underpinned by the Church Social Teaching (CST).
Our Geographical Scope: JCTR has offices in Lusaka, Kitwe and Livingstone but we implement our work on the Copperbelt, and in Lusaka, Southern, Central, Northern, North-western and Western provinces. The BNNB work is conducted in all the ten provinces of Zambia. Additionally, JCTR conducts its advocacy on various issues at the National and Local levels across the country.
Our Focus: JCTR’s work primarily focuses on the vulnerable and marginalised people of the Zambian population by advocating for pro-poor policies aimed at promoting economic development, poverty reduction as well as improved access to human rights and social services.
Our Vision: “A Just Zambian Society, Guided by Faith Where Everyone Enjoys the Fullness of Life”
Our Mission: “To Promote Justice and Equality for all, Especially the Poor and Marginalised, Through Christian Values, Education, Care for the Environment and Influencing Policy Formulation.”
Values	The underpinning values of the organisation which determine how we relate to ourselves and others as well as determining how we conduct our work:
1.	Human Dignity – respect for the essential equality of every human being as created in God's image and likeness and their potential for full human development is central to what we do;

2.	Option for the Poor – We apply the option for the poor as criteria for evaluating all we are and do; as well as the difference we can make for the poor and marginalised. Option for the poor means that JCTR's work will give preferential attention to the poor and the marginalised, recognising that the Gospel calls for the greatest response to be given to those in greatest need;
3.	Social Justice – JCTR is committed to a recalibration of four core relations: to self, others, God and the environment summed up in social justice. This recalibration strives to commit us to the eradication of poverty and promotion of equality for all and integral and sustainable development of human beings, societies and the created universe;
4.	Discernment – We uphold prayerful reflection on purpose, style, product, consequences of organisation and activities, therefore JCTR's activities are anchored in prayerful reflection on purpose, how our activities impact on the common good in keeping with the ethical principles of beneficence, non-maleficence, autonomy and justice;
5.	Rootedness – We are rooted in our common humanity and strive to be close to the lives of ordinary people and the most vulnerable in our society and share their joys and hopes, grief and anguish, especially those who are poor, marginalised, discriminated against on any grounds or in any way afflicted or overburdened;
6.	Environmental justice – JCTR is driven by respect for the environment and consciousness of the scarce resources available to us as humanity and promotes prudent use of resources and assets for the greater good;
7.	Transparency – we are clear and open about our aims, objectives, and activities and why we carry them out. Above all we aim to practise financial and resource transparency and report to all who support and cooperate with JCTR and to hold our elected leaders to account;
8.	Integrity - the adherence of JCTR staff to important moral principle and high professional standards during the implementation of all projects, leading to the establishment of working relationships based on honesty and trust.

Activities	What we will do in order to achieve our goals:
	JCTR’s activities are grouped around four main pillars: Research, Advocacy, Education and consultancy on various social and economic issues: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research – critical understanding of current issues, strengthened by theological reflection and guided by the CSTs that emphasise the human dignity in community • Advocacy – engaging government and other duty bearers on how best to improve the lives of the poor • Education – capacity building activities for communities to enable them engage with duty bearers • Consultancy – offering consultancy services on issues that JCTR works on to would be clients. The exercises enhances the Centre’s knowledge and skills on researched on topics as well as bringing in additional financial resources
Relationships – Whom we will cooperate with and how:
In order to achieve the vision and mission of this strategic plan, the JCTR will collaborate with a number of stakeholders. Stakeholders have a bearing on the realisation of the goals of this strategic plan either by influencing the achievements (strategic partners) or by being influenced, as target groups. The stakeholders are in three categories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Government/ national level stakeholder • Local level stakeholder • Strategic Development Cooperation partners
Monitoring & Evaluation – How we are going to measure our outcomes and impact, and how we will integrate the learning into our daily work:

JCTR's strategic planning follows the approach of Results-Based Management (RBM), which has been considered a very helpful approach by JCTR in order to focus the planning and monitoring of changes brought about by its work.

JCTR activities will be organised through annual work plans that are designed to achieve the outcomes outlined above. For each annual work plan, JCTR sets performance indicators which are both at impact and outcome levels.

JCTR has an internal Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation unit to help with aligning the implementation of programmes to the strategic plan. The following internal processes will be implemented to ensure realignment of activities to the plans:

- Monthly data collection on activity implementation for measuring outputs
- Bi annual collection of monitoring and evaluation data collection from outreach areas for measuring outcomes.
- Collection of stories of change
- Quarterly review meeting to discuss activity implementation and achievement of results □
- Weekly programme meetings
- Management meetings

An external consultant will also be engaged mid-term and end of term to assess whether the strategic plan is on course.

Resource Mobilisation and Sustainability – The funds needed and how we will secure them:

JCTR's ability to deliver this strategic plan depends on our securing strategic partnership agreement traditional funders which contribute up to 90% of our running costs. This is partly subject to our being successful in submitting financial and activity reports to donors for the last strategic plan. JCTR has prepared specific and general reports awaiting the Board of Trustee approval.

JCTR has developed a Resource Mobilisation Strategy which is aimed at ensuring the Centre's its long-term sustainability. This focuses on: -

- Securing on-going core funding from traditional donors
- Building long-term partnerships with partner funding organisations
- Building corporate relationships
- Complete building hostels in Kitwe for rental
- Developing training, capacity building and consultancy services
